

INTRODUCTION

Kathy Feather is a dedicated Business Operations Strategist and Travel Advisor who helps online coaches and course creators. With over 20 years of corporate and consulting expertise, she provides personalized, stress-reducing solutions—from strategic planning and project management to technical back-office optimization—that allow her clients to build genuine connections and maximize their impact.

THE MISSION

To guide and support coaches and course creators in achieving a balance between their professional aspirations and personal lives. Her goal is to provide stress-reducing solutions that help build authentic client connections and long-lasting success, always keeping in mind the principle: “Never get so busy making a living, that you forget to make a life.”
